

MARYLAND ASSOCIATION OF NURSING STUDENTS

Board of Directors Update:

The MANS BoD is excited to announce two new board members!

Tanya Ottaviani, from Allegany College of Maryland, has filled our treasurer position. Tanya is a first semester nursing student and hopes to get into cardiac, L&D, or holistic nursing once she graduates.

Tupochere Kasambwe, a new graduate from Howard Community College, has filled our MANS Student Consultant position. Tupo is continuing her education at University of Maryland, Shady Grove to earn her BSN and aspires to be a NICU nurse.

Save the Date

Mark the date on your calendar because you do not want to miss the 38th Annual State Convention. This year's theme is "Shaping the Next Generation of Nursing Leaders". Join us for remarkable keynote and endnote speakers along with various breakout sessions, that you get to choose from, where you get a chance to sit in on a presentation from various specialties in nursing! There will also be a chance for you to speak with reps from various nursing programs if you are interested in furthering your education. And to end the day, plenty of giveaways will be raffled!

NSNA Mid-Year Convention in San Diego

Are you attending the NSNA Mid-Year Career Planning Convention? If so, MANS would like to invite you to our Maryland Nursing Student Luncheon. On Friday, November 3rd we will be hosting a free luncheon for all MD nursing students as a way to provide a home away from home in San Diego and to get to know our nursing students. Location is the Town and Country in the Terrace Salon 2 at 12 pm. A social media announcement will be posted as a reminder of date, time, and location. Please check our Facebook, Instagram, or Twitter for updates.

Nursing Diversity Spotlight

This month we are taking time to express our gratitude towards Maryland's nursing students who have honorably served in our country's military. Check out the Diversity Spotlight under the Breakthrough to Nursing tab to find resources geared towards veterans and those interested in joining the military as registered nurses.
